

JUAN DAVID POLIT

Born Quito, Ecuador, 1966. Education: Catholic University of Ecuador (Jurisprudence Doctor), Harvard Law School (LL.M./International Tax Program Certificate), San Francisco University, Quito, Ecuador (Negotiation Workshops Certificate). Experience: Pólit & Pólit Abogados, Partner, specializing in environmental law, energy and taxation; Coordinator of the Environmental Services Area of Pact, Inc. specializing in climate change projects (2005 to date); Outside counsel to the Internal Revenue Service of Ecuador (2000); Consultant to the World Bank's Project on Environmental Management in Ecuador (1997-1998); Legal Advisor to the Minister of the Environment (1997); Legal Advisor to the Minister of Energy and Mines (1996); Teaching Assistant in Economics of Taxation and Data Analysis in the International Tax Program at Harvard University (1995); Counselor and advisor to various local and international companies and NGO's. Lecturer: Negotiation Workshop, San Francisco University (1996 – 1998), Quito; Environmental Economics, Simón Bolívar University, Chimborazo University and Catholic University of Guayaquil (1999). Member: Pichincha Bar Association, Interamerican Bar Association, Young Lawyers International Association; Member of the Board of the Ecuadorian Center for Environmental Law. Languages: Spanish, English. Publications: - Tax Implications of the Risk Service Contract, (Doctoral Thesis) 1993; Fiscal Arrangement for the Ecuadorian Tourist Industry (Granted Excellence in Research Award by the Harvard ITP), 1995; Ecuadorian Tax Guide, Kluwer, 1999 – 2006; Clean Production Mechanisms in the Ecuadorian Legislation, OIKOS Corporation, 1999; Regular contributions to Tax Notes International and Latin American Law and Business Review.